CANADA'S BIGGEST PARTY BAND

Known as the LOUDEST voice in the Canadian brass scene, SHOUT! is Canada's BIGGEST party and show band. Featuring 12 of Canada's most talented performers, with members hailing from as far as Ghana and Argentina, the secret to SHOUT!'s iconic sound comes from the roots of jazz in New Orleans, mixed with musical concepts from all around the world, including percussion and rhythmic patterns introduced from South America, and harmonies and melodic styles from across Asia and Africa.

Formed in Toronto in 2019, SHOUT! the band began as a small busking band of students from UofT and Humber College, playing make-shift shows on the streets. These early sidewalk shows featuring only a handful of horns quickly exploded as the band grew in both size and popularity, growing to a full 12 piece band, taking the city by storm, and drawing crowds so large that major city traffic came to a standstill.

As their reputation continued to grow, the band transitioned from street corners to stages and festivals, playing at venues across Canada, bringing their infectious performances to wider audiences leaving fans captivated in their wake.

SHOUT! quickly became notorious for their iconic sound and energy, garnering the attention of major players within the music industry, leading to collaborations and performances with artists such as Anderson .Paak, Maurice Brown, and Benny Benack III.

THE FAMILY BUSINESS

Aside from the band's growing list of credits playing at festivals and with notable international artists, the SHOUT! family features some of Canada's finest musicians who have worked live and in-studio with international sensations like J-Cole, Shawn Mendes, Olivia Rodrigo, Colin Linden, Tom "Bones" Malone, Omi, the Wu-Tang Clan, Freddie Gibbs, and more.

The SHOUT! team also has extensive touring and performing experience, having played on iconic stages and at major festivals across the globe, including shows at venues like History, the Budweiser Stage, and Massey Hall in Toronto, and festivals like the Ottawa and Montreal International Jazz Festivals in Canada, Luxembourg Music Festival, The International AMOFEST in Ghana, and Coachella and the Newport Jazz Festival in the USA.

SHOUT! regularly performs with award-winning artists, and amongst the star-studded team, the band features many award winning musicians in their own right, including a recent Grammy Nominee, from the 2024 Grammy Award
